

Eddystone Consulting Ltd wins debut health and safety qualification accolade from the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents (RoSPA)

Eddystone based in Hathersage in the UK, fought off stiff competition to scoop a debuting Award, demonstrating its commitment to health and safety excellence at the 2024 RoSPA Qualification Awards held at the iconic London landmark, HMS Belfast.

Eddystone Consulting Ltd won the 'First Class Instructor-Led Provider of the Year' category, demonstrating its commitment to putting excellence right at the heart of learning and skill development by providing high-quality training courses.

The free-to-enter awards allow existing providers the chance to showcase their training quality, benchmarking them against other course-assured training providers, resulting in the potential to win tenders and new clients.

The judging panel included four health and safety experts: Independent Public Health Consultant, Dr Michael Craig Watson; RoSPA Qualifications board member Peter Brown, chair of the RoSQual Governing Body, Brian Johnson and RoSPA's Achievements Director Julia Small.

Tim Bird, MD at Eddystone said:

"We are thrilled to receive this award, which recognises Eddystone's unwavering commitment to deliver the highest level of training. There can be no compromise in our training, when needed, it saves lives. This award reflects the significant effort, focus and professionalism of the delivery team, who should be immensely proud of their achievements."

Julia Small, RoSPA's Achievements Director, said:

"As leaders in health and safety, we know how crucial it is for businesses to offer a high standard of training, whether in-house or through third-party providers. Quality training benefits everyone, and securing a Course Assurance Award marks a company as an industry pioneer.

"We are thrilled that Eddystone have won at our the RoSPA Qualification Course Assurance Awards. Congratulations on your dedication to safeguarding people from accidental harm and injury."

-Ends-

For further press information, images or an interview with one of our experts, please contact:
Jessica Barker: jbarker@rospa.com, 07719 059 414.

Notes to Editor(s)

- For more information on the RoSPA Qualification Awards please see here.
- About the Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents (RoSPA)
RoSPA is a not-for-profit organisation that has worked for more than 100 years to help people recognise and reduce their risk of accidents, at home, on the road, at work and at leisure. Our goal is to enable everyone to live their lives to the full, safely. For further information on RoSPA and its history, please see here.
- RoSPA Qualifications is an awarding Organisation (AO) regulated by Ofqual and operates independently from RoSPA and other divisions of RoSPA.
- About Eddystone Consulting Ltd (Eddystone)
Eddystone provides consultancy, training and exercises regarding managing risk, maintaining readiness, planning for continuity and responding to emergencies or crisis. Our customers include high risk, high profile, high reliability and other responsible organisations in the UK and abroad. We provide RoSPA accredited training courses for duty holders identified under the CoMAH regulations.
- For further information about Eddystone training please see here

