SUMMARY PORTFOLIO

Eddystone is known for helping customers improve risk, emergency, crisis and continuity management capability. Drawing on 400+ years of collective experience, our guidance, consultancy, training and exercises have helped develop resilience in many organisations globally. We train individuals and teams with special competencies for use during unscheduled emergencies and crisis, we help organisations respond with confidence.

We work with RoSPA and JOIFF to deliver exceptional accredited award training, our feedback supports this. Clients include high-hazard (Control of Major Accident Hazards (COMAH) and non CoMAH), critical infrastructure, high-reliability or high-profile organisations. We know that non CoMAH organisations can have Major Accidents, our competency framework means our training is suitable for all sites.

Eddystone conducts peer group training on customer sites and our centrally located National Response Academy (NRA) provides training for individuals and can support organisation-wide personnel to self-administer their own training.
